Orfeo Hispanico To Appear On Artist Series Oct. 22

Orfeo Hispanico de Majorca chorus will appear in the Knights gymnasium as the first number of Wartburg's 1950-51 Artist Series Sunday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m.

Under the direction of its founder, Maestro Juan Thomas, the chorus will present a program consisting of early music of the Hispanic world, great liturgical compositions, choral masterworks of classical, romantic and modern composers and Spanish folk music.

Receives Wide Acclaim.

Winning praises from critics and world-famous concert artists, the Orfeo has received acclamation in newspapers and musical journals throughout Europe.

Since its debut in 1932, the Orfeo Hispanico has engaged in extensive tours on the mainland of Europe. Famous musicians were thrilled by the group's masterful interpretations.

"As a fellow musician, I am indebted to Maestro Thomas for the deep emotion I felt in hearing the chorus under his direction," said Artur Rubinstein, king of the pianists, after a concert at which he had been the featured performer.

Lighting Profoundly Gripped.

Leonard Liebling, another great of the keyboard, put his admiration into even warmer terms:

"I was profoundly gripped, not only with the sheer beauty of the music and singing, but also by the beatific raptness of the singers and their inspired director. It was an evening I shall treasure among my most valued musical memories."

All members of the Orfeo are natives of the small island of Majorca, located off the southern coast of Spain, and will appear dressed in native costumes. The group is scheduled to arrive in early October for a four-months' tour of this country.

Reservations Available.

Reservations for students and faculty members may be made at the treasurer's office at any time between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5 and 6, according to Jim Fritschel, junior, member of the Artist Series committee. Activity tickets should be shown.

Students and faculty members may also purchase books of tickets for relatives and friends at regular sales prices, ranging from $1.80 to $3.60.

Tryouts Completed For Drama Cast; Vogel To Play Lead

Final results of the tryouts for "Elizabeth the Queen" were posted this week by Ernest Maulwurf, junior and president of Wartburg Players.

Playing the part of Elizabeth will be Judy Vogel, senior, remembered as the star of "The Taming of the Shrew," Shakespearean production presented two years ago. Judy, who also had a prominent part in last year's show "Blithe Spirit," will be under-studied by Lois Snyder, another senior and veteran in Wartburg dramatics.

Diers To Play Essex.

Lord Essex, the male lead in the play, will be acted by Herman Diers. A transfer student from the University of Dubuque, Diers was quite active in a radio program aired over station KXEL, Waterloo, and participated in two plays while at Dubuque.

Regina Welsch as Penelope Gray and Duane Daggett as Sir Walter Raleigh will face the footlights for the first time as Players, although both freshmen point to several appearances in high school dramatics.

Smith is 'Bat' Veteran.

Veteran actor from "The Bat," last year's mystery, Dean Smith will act the part of Sir Robert Cecil. Ernest Maulwurf, also from "The Bat," will take the part of Lord Burleigh. Another "Bat" veteran, Philip Mueller, will be Francis Bacon, while newcomer Harry Borcherding will take the part of the Fool.

Heroine of "Pure as the Driven Snow," Grace Hartman is Ellen in the current play, while Elda Wienke, also known for his work in the melodrama, takes the part of Burbage. Ed Roleder, prominent in "The Bat" and "Taming of the Shrew," will play both Prince Henry and the First Guard.

Upperclassmen Are New.

Newcomers to the Wartburg stage, although upperclassmen, are Robert Lehmann, senior, as Captain Armin; Herbert Hildebrandt, junior, as Lord Howard; Ronald Schumacher, sophomore, as Hemmings and Fourth Guard, and George Gundacker, junior, as Falstaff.

Completing the cast are these freshmen—Herman Streng as a Captain and second Guard, Marlene Wherry as Mary, Yvonne Voss as Tressa, Carl Knitt as Marvel and Gadhil, Carl Boebel as a Courier, DuWayne Lunde as a Herald and Barton Baugh as Pete and Third Guard.

New Duties Come To Frosh Officers

Taking over their new functions as class representatives this week are seven freshmen, elected to official positions last Monday night at a meeting in the Little Theater. Names of the officers were released by Katherine Mueller, sophomore and secretary of Student Senate.

Proxy of the "greenies" is Myron Grunewald. He will be assisted by Vice-President Ed Fritschel. Secretary Fran Wuebbens and Treasurer Ed Wolfgram.

Taking seats on Wartburg's student government body, Student Senate, are Eric Biedermann, Emmert Busch and Doris Mueller. Gruenwald is automatically a Senator in his capacity as class president.

Juniors Hold Ballot; Rand Vice-Prexy

Results of the junior class elections held last Monday evening, were disclosed this week by Dick Swenson, president of the class.

Howard Rand was chosen vice-president, defeating Harold Wienke and Herb Hildebrandt. In the race for secretary, Jean Winnie defeated Lois Burmeister, while Melvin Blobaum was elected treasurer over Dean Pilgrim and Richard Wiltshire.

Schmidt, Hulme Launch Bible Discussion Groups

Sponsored by the Rev. William F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church here, and Dr. William E. Hulme, college chaplain, six Bible discussion groups have been organized to meet every Sunday morning at St. Paul's parish hall.

Classes, organized for study of current religious problems, will meet between 9:15 and 9:55 a.m. Some of the topics for discussion are "The Effects of Communism on Christian Living," "Marital Viewpoints" and "Evangelism."

Candidates For Queen Named

By Ruth Lechner

Final candidates for Homecoming queen, as determined by last Wednesday's election on campus, are Emmajean Aardal, Ruth Meyer, Lucille Wenzler, Barbara Wuest, juniors, and Dorothea Diers, senior. News of the outcome of the voting was released by LeRoy Aden, senior and general chairman.

Emmajean Aardal

Dorothea Diers

Ruth Meyer

Lucille Wenzler

Barbara Wuest

Selection of the queen from among these five will be held next Tuesday, Oct. 3. The other four will be queen's attendants.

Emmajean Biology Major.

Taking a liberal arts course with a major in biology, Emmajean Aardal, is a member of the Wartburg choir. Emmajean's selection as winter sports queen last year perhaps foreshadowed her candidacy for the highest honor Wartburg students can bestow upon a coed. She is also interested in radio work, being a member of the staff of KNYT, Wartburg's future FM station.

Only senior candidate this year is Dorothea Diers from Monticello, a social work major. Dorothea belongs, of course, to her professional organization, Passavant. She is also secretary of World Affairs Forum, the campus political discussion club, besides being a member of LSA, Sigma and Phebes.

Ruth Active In Dramatics.

Ruth Meyer, of Strawberry Point, is working toward a music major. In keeping with her chosen field, Ruth is in Wartburg choir as well as in band. She is also active in dramatics, being a member of Wartburg Players and having recently been pledged to Lambda Mu, local cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity.

Petite Lucille Wenzler hails from Waukatosa, Wis. Lucy is planning to teach kindergarten after graduation from Wartburg. She also is an old hand at the business of being queen, having been selected as the first Wartburg coed ever to reign over the pages of the Fortress last year. Lucy at the same time was a candidate for Drake Relays queen. Wartburg choir, FTA and Student Senate round out her list of activities.

Bare in Choir, Band.

Last on the list, at least alphabetically, is Barbara Wuest from Dyersville, Iowa, taking a two-year Music Education course. She also is a member of the a cappella choir, besides playing in band and belonging to Music Appreciation club.

Foreign Students Find Wartburg Friendly, Hospitable

By Bob Gremmels

If it were possible to take the individual opinions of Wartburg's four new foreign students, put them into a hopper, mix them together and come out with a general statement, it would probably read, "We are happy to be at Wartburg and have been greatly impressed by the friendliness and hospitality here."

Wartburg can now be considered almost cosmopolitan with a total of six foreign students enrolled.

Rosilda Sparkling Frosh.

Coming to Wartburg from Vorn, Estonia, is Rosilda Seum, a sparkling, zestful freshman who prefers being called "Rosie." Since arriving in this country in 1949, she and her parents have resided in Rockford, where she was graduated from high school last spring.

Taking a four-year teachers' course, with a major in social science in mind, Rosie is also interested in dramatics, journalism and speech. Last May she won the state high school speech contest at Cresco.

Likes Wartburg.

"I like Wartburg very much," she said, and then jokingly added, "but I'll be glad when freshman initiation is over."

Also from Estonia is Uno Kodres, another freshman, whose home was formerly in Tartu. In 1948 he came to this country, and for the past two years, has worked in his brother-in-law's bakery in Wakefield, Mass.

Although he never really finished high school, Bob, as he has been nicknamed, attended a night school in Boston and thereby qualified for a scholarship.

Impressed By Friendliness.

"I have been greatly impressed by the friendliness at Wartburg," said Bob, "and I am happy to be able to attend a Christian college."

From the other side of the world comes Eugene Pablo, whose home is in the Philippines. However, he has lived in the United States for the past 21 years—10 years in Chicago and 11 in Waterloo, where his two children, Gene Edward and Mary Elizabeth, still reside. His wife is no longer living.

Reserved But Congenial.

Representing Latvia is Irene Mezeraups, a reserved but congenial freshman from Riga. Enrolled as a liberal arts student, Irene hopes to go either into social work or parish work.

"I feel fortunate that I can attend a Christian school," she said. "In Europe it is almost impossible. I am also impressed by the friendliness here."

Castle Tales Issues Call For Material

Editorial staff of Castle Tales, Wartburg's literary magazine, is again issuing a call for original material to be printed in its first issue, which is scheduled to appear Dec. 4.

Nov. 1 has been set as the deadline for submitting material for this year's first issue of Castle Tales. All prose work should be submitted to Ila Irene Smith or Ray Schwartz, prose editor of the publication, while material in the field of poetry should be given to Marion Chapman, poetry editor.

Recall David And Goliath?

There is perhaps nothing more dangerous in any competitive struggle than the tendency to underestimate one's enemy, no matter how weak he may be. Continued and unchecked success over inferior foes tends to breed in the victor an unfortunate attitude by which he takes it for granted that he will win.

Loras college of Dubuque seems to have fallen prey to such a notion. The interview with the Loras coaches published in last Thursday's Des Moines Register leaves little doubt that they considered last night's battle with Wartburg as merely a sort of practice game for their tilt with St. Ambrose tomorrow.

By the time this issue of the TRUMPET reaches our readers, the results of last night's game will already be known. We would like to take this opportunity, however, to affirm our belief that no matter what the outcome, the game won't have been a push-over. Wartburg may not win, but Loras will know today that it had a battle on its hands.

As Coach Nelson pointed out at Thursday's convo, it is not necessarily the favorite who always wins. Last season's basketball games between the Knights and Loras should have proved that to the Duhawks. However, some people never seem to learn even though practically convinced by force.

Loras college is proud of the so-called "Loras treatment." Judging by the crowd that went down to Dubuque yesterday and by the spirit exhibited during the game, the name might well be changed to "Wartburg treatment."

POLITICAL PAGEANT

By Wayne Stumme

Truth Is Our Best Weapon

United Nations forces, fighting their way back from what seemed a hopeless position, are now on the verge of complete victory over the Red Korean invaders. In many sectors the Communists are almost completely disorganized, while other troops are scurrying toward the comparative safety of the 38th parallel. The United Nations in its first police action against an aggressor, has shown that it possesses a greater vitality than the defunct League of Nations.

The fighting in Korea will soon be over, but will the lessons learned from this struggle help to lay the foundations for a sturdier world peace, or will the errors in previous policy be glossed over until another holocaust of yet more terrible proportions strips them bare once more? Now, without carrying the heat and the hate of the battleground to the conference table, we may be able to face the real issues squarely and formulate a more intelligent plan of action. What, then, are some of the incontrovertible facts that this conflict has brought into the open?

People desire to be nations. The Communists, taking full advantage of the awakening of nationalism in many countries of the Far East, have channeled patriotic fervor into a driving force for national unity. Unity was not the existing condition when hostilities began in Korea. The same state of affairs exists in Germany today, where an increasing demand for a united Fatherland is making itself known. Men of like origin and culture all over the globe are clamoring for unified representation on a national scale, and if the United Nations wishes to counterbalance the efficacy of Soviet war propaganda, it must make sincere efforts to end the unnatural condition of artificial boundaries as determined by short-sighted political leaders.

If it has proved nothing else, the Korean incident has demonstrated the need for a truly representative international police force made up of contingents from the member countries. These troops could be activated in a comparatively short time and dispatched to global hot spots. No one country would have to bear the burden of supplying the greater part of the arms and men, as the United States has had to do in this war. The formation of such a force would be a formidable deterrent to the designs of any aggressor.

An effective information service on a global scale should be established by the United Nations as a result of the Korean affair. Much of the Russian success in subverting the normal national feeling of the Koreans to their own nefarious purposes can be traced to effective propaganda, based on puzzling half-truths and complicated falsehoods. A wide dissemination of the truth regarding the responsibilities and powers of the United Nations would establish a wider basis of popular support for its activities. The truth is still the finest weapon in the arsenal of democracy.

With Wienke

According to the Van Horn Theory of Multiple Cheering we find that, in theory at least, the number of students in the cheering section at the Wartburg game is in relation to the amount of noise and enthusiasm produced is directly proportional to the total student body and the amount of cheering that should be done at the Homecoming game. Thus the formula:

ch W — ch Homecoming
x xxx!!!*x

Dr. Sweneen informs us, however, that if the cheering becomes heated, a chemical chain reaction sets in and there is no method of ascertaining how great the result will be.

Wartburg student Bob Mong and two friends from Waverly visited friends at Iowa State this past week-end. It appeared to be "frat week" there and the boys were promptly pledged to Beta Theta Pi, very discriminating fraternity. Quite a feat, men!

Charlie See is certainly a solitary figure at all the events held in the Knights Commodium. He maintains his lonely vigil perched up on his little roost at the sound controls. Perhaps we ought to show our appreciation by getting him a nice, comfortable, overstuffed chair.

We are aware that columnists at times insert the barbed shaft and twist gently. And we also feel it's duty to strew flowers whenever orchids are in order. Therefore, we announce that Mrs. Grube's prodigal cookbook has returned and we are enjoying the first fruits of its reappearance. Es schmecht gut!

The freshmen were dusting
the sophomores beds,
While visions of Outfly yet
danced in their heads.
Next morning at 4 there arose
such a clatter
That they sprang from their

To escort them all down for Monday night's freshman class meeting was our first occasion to observe such reticence to adjourn.

Need For Leadership Impresses Mrs. Siefkes

"My profound conviction is that we can learn from other countries as much as they can learn from us Americans and that our youth must lose the idea of doing kindly deeds simply to be thanked for them."

These are the conclusions drawn by Mrs. Grace Siefkes, secretary to the dean of students, from the international convention of Girl Scout leaders. This gathering was held at Camp Edith Macy just outside New York City, where approximately one hundred women met during the period from Aug. 22 to Sept. 4, under the observation of professional Girl Scouters.

Only Midwest Delegate.

Mrs. Siefkes was awarded the scholarship to this meeting in view of her experience as a volunteer worker in Girl Scouts. Another contributing factor was her contention of "know-how" as a leadership. She was the sole delegate from midwestern United States.

All races of the world were represented at this convention with the exception of the American Indian. Mrs. Siefkes' group of 21 there were representatives from nine foreign countries. These women were sent, some as representatives and at the expense of their governments and others from leading universities, both of which acclaimed this meeting as of great importance.

With the loyalty of a native Iowan, Mrs. Siefkes stated, "Even foreigners, when I was introduced as from Iowa, noted that it was the 'Tall Corn State'."

'Germany Needs Leadership.'

When consulted concerning the condition of youth work in other countries, Mrs. Siefkes remarked, "My most alarming observation was the report of the German delegation. They stated that, as a result of the vast number of youth groups which included the majority of young people through the ages of 21, the need for constructive leadership is of great urgency.

In concluding her remarks Mrs. Siefkes added "Our deliberations were all carried on in the English language. Some of it was very poor but we could understand the main ideas. I believe that language is no barrier—our greatest trouble is prejudice. Above all, our youth must be taught respect for other peoples."

M F Hears Topic On Mission Work

Aims and purposes of Mission Fellowship were discussed and a topic on mission work in a congregation of a suburb of Columbus, Ohio, was presented when Mission Fellowship met Tuesday evening, Sept. 19, in the rehearsal room of Old Main.

Dr. William Hulme, college chaplain, presented the topic, while the discussion on aims and purposes was led by Ronald Ostien, president, and Ralph Timmsen, vice president.

Plans for the future, according to Omen, include a speaker from Pakistan and a clothing drive scheduled for sometime in November.

THOSE PEOPLE who are population conscious in Alaska have put forth a very nice offer to desirable young ladies in the U. S. They are offering free transportation to Juneau to the romantically inclined. It has been suggested that Wartburg adopt a similar policy.

Strong Duhawks Steamroll Knights, 55-6

By Fred Moberg

A powerful Duhawk eleven easily rolled over the Wartburg aggregation by a score of 55-6 last night at the Dubuque high school stadium as the Knights began their first conference play.

Fierce blocking and a crafty running attack proved to be the downfall of the Nelsonmen. A lack of spark was clearly noticeable among the Knight squad members as they were unable to threaten the Loras eleven in the first half of the encounter.

Loras Goes Wild.

In the initial minutes of the game a Wartburg drive was halted on the 45-yard line. "Bud" Rowray kicked to the Loras 26. Five plays later the Duhawks scored on an end sweep by halfback Ed Uvodick. Loras went wild. Three touchdowns followed in quick succession, and the bewildered Knights found themselves trailing by 27 points as the gun sounded ending the half.

Third quarter brought further trouble to the Knights as the Duhawks added two more tallies to their ever-increasing margin. "Ole" Olson turned in a notable performance at the flank and did much to stop the ever-driving Loras attack.

Knights Rally For TO.

A rally by the Black and Orange opened the fourth quarter as "Hank" Sowers plunged through center for a first down. A Price-to-Sowers pass brought the ball into deep enemy territory on the Loras 19-yard line. The line hit hard and Sowers broke center for a first down. Price carried to the 8 and then to the 3-yard line.

Now the power was awakened and Sowers spear-headed a drive to the 1-yard line. Ed Kittleson drove across for the touchdown. Koehler's attempted conversion was blocked, so the Knights were on board with 6 points.

From this time on, the contest was clearly in the hands of the Duhawks as they again showed a hard-driving line, a threatening passing attack and deceptive broken field running. The Loras eleven added two more touchdowns and a safety to win the game 55-6.

Wartburg Loses Heartbreaker, 7-6, In Fourth Quarter

By Ronnie Schumacher

Wartburg Knights were deprived of their first grid win of the season when the Winona Teachers scored seven points late in the last period to take the game, 7-6. The battle was staged last Saturday under the Mazdas of Maxwell field in Winona.

During the game Knights Eve Hanus and Bob Koehler incurred injuries which may keep them out of the lineup for some time.

Punting Is Good.

Great punting characterized the first quarter of the game. A boot by Andy Swota, whose educated toe later gave Winona its one-point margin, carried from the Warrior 28 to Wartburg's five-yard line. Fritz Steinhauer got the Knights out of this hut with a 38-yard punt to the 43.

Early in the second quarter, two runs by Halfback Dick Cook put Winona in a first and goal position on the Wartburg 22. The Nelsonmen toughened up, however, and on the last down Swota's attempt to drop-kick a field goal from the 20 was no good.

Boffa Gets Long Run.

Opening minutes of the second half found Winona down on the Wartburg 20 after Joe Boffa had toted the ball for an average of 31 yards and the longest run of the game. Wartburg again dug in and checked the Warriors.

Near the end of the third period the Knights started moving from their own 20. They marched all the way to the Winona one-foot line, where a fumble cost them a touchdown. Winona punted to the 30, and the determined Knights took possession. This time they were not to be denied. Dean Price flipped a 20-yard pass to Fritz Steinhauer for the TD. Koehler's placement was wide, but Wartburg led 6-0.

Extra Point Decides Game.

Then, with only two minutes to go in the game, Andy Swota shot an aerial to Boffa for a 20-yard gain and a tied score. Swota drop-kicked the all-important extra point—a bull's eye going over the cross bar and ricocheting noisily off the board fence behind the goal posts to pronounce a heartbreaking defeat for Wartburg.

Not only did the Knights outrun, out-pass, out-block and out-tackle the Warriors, but they also showed the kind of fighting spirit so badly lacking at the La Crosse game.

Back 'Hank' Sowers Athlete Of Week For Fine Grid Play

By Wayne Koetz

Darrell (Hank) Sowers, sophomore from Sumner, was chosen at a meeting of the "W" club this past week as Wartburg's first Athlete of the Week for the 1950 gridiron season.

Darrell, better known as "Hank" to his friends, was chosen for the coveted "W" club award because of his fine all-around ball-handling in the Winona Teachers game a week ago. His exceptional playing set up the lone Wartburg tally of the game.

As Coach "Nellie" Nelson expressed it, "Hank looked like a real ball carrier should and used good running and interference to best advantage."

Football is no new game to "Hank," who was a three-year letter winner in high school, where he played the fullback slot. Although he filled the same position in the game against Winona, Sowers is rapidly coming into his own as a halfback.

"Hank" is probably better known for his ability to play baseball. A four-year letter winner in baseball in high school, he also won a starting position on the Wartburg diamond squad last year.

Darrell is enrolled as a four-year student and is majoring in physical education.

Speaking Of Sports

By Freddie

Wartburg's Homecoming football encounter could prove to be a battle of weight if Coach Nelson uses his heavy linemen. The Buena Vista Beavers have five men in their starting line who weigh 210 pounds or over. They are called the Buena Vista "Mule Train." Rumors have it that they practice by pulling a box car. Possibly they should run into a Wartburg locomotive.

* * * * *

Some members of the Knight football squad have a word of thanks for the cheering section present at the Winona contest. Instead of a lot making few noises it was a few making lots of noise. Let's profit from this praise and show the boys of the Orange and Black that we are really behind them all the way.

* * * * *

Dick Cayne, the former Iowa University great, and present gridiron coach at Westmar, will undoubtedly have much in store for the Wartburg eleven next Friday evening. Some sports writers list the Golden Eagles as a possible dark horse in the Iowa conference.

* * * * *

Upper Iowa's Peacocks will probably be even more proud than usual after the 13-6 victory over the men from Great Lakes. Of course, the five-year winning streak over Wartburg would surely do nothing to lower their pride. All we need is the spark, and then watch the fire.

* * * * *

Last year's "From The Sidelines" sports column conducted a football contest which will be continued this year. All crystal gazers and psychic sports enthusiasts are asked to refrain from entering the weekly contest, but all other dopesters are eligible. A weekly prize as well as a grand prize will be given to the winner. So just fill out the blank and put it in the contest box near the mail chute in the Den.

Outfly Finds Frosh Eager For Trouble; Leaves All With Head Colds, No Voices

By Claude Grelling

"Outfly!"

The traditional cry indicated that Knights and Knighties last Tuesday had once more decided to ignore the call of studies and take a day off.

It all began at 4:30 a.m. when Chairman Gundacker woke a few stalwarts from North hall and invaded the premises of Grossmann to the accompaniment of stentorian voices, firecrackers of various sizes and the sound of pounding fists on locked doors. This was it!

Learn Meaning Of 'Green.'

Freshies all over the campus began to learn what it means to be "green" on Outfly day. They stretched their tired bodies in sophomore-led gymnastics on North field, ate breakfast in the cafeteria sitting on the floor and were doused by unkown hands on the steps of Old Main.

Then they participated in the all-school snake dance down Bremer avenue and came back to the campus only to be told that by some oversight the upperclassmen had forgotten to tell them that the traditional green wings were available at Meyer's drugstore. After due apologies by the sophomores, back downtown went the frosh to procure the insignias of their ignominy.

But it wasn't all hazing. Many a couple used the wide expanse of Outfly grounds to good advantage and fraternized in good old Wartburg style. Head colds, lost voices and stuffed noses speak well for the number of Knights who paid no attention to the humidity of the ground or the chilliness of the wind, shocked as they were, no doubt, in moe interesting proceedings.

LeSourd, Holme Play Ball.

Even faculty members caught some of the spirit of Outfly, and it is rumored that Chaplain "Mustache" Holme and "Dave" LeSourd, economics, taught the younger generation that life begins at 7 by slamming softballs all over the lot. Dr. Holme is also reported to have a vicious pitching arm that delivers a murderous fast ball.

At any rate, it was real vacation, and all Wartburg took advantage of it. Even the movie at night, in spite of poor acoustics in the Knights Gym, was well attended. Only one comment is necessary to illustrate the campus-wide exhaustion:

"Good thing that Outfly comes only once a semester!!"

Freshmen being given a bad time at breakfast in the cafeteria on Outfly morning are Emilie Aaberg, Takoma, Wash., and Paul Darnauer of Lekota.

Classroom Religion LSA Topic Sunday

"Classroom Christianity?" will be the topic for discussion at tomorrow's meeting of the Lutheran Student association, according to Katherine Mueller, publicity chairman.

Bowling League Coming Reality

Organization of a bowling league for Wartburg students began this week with Al Braunschweig, senior, in charge. League bowling is scheduled to begin in late October or early November at a cost of 65 cents a week per student.

Famous Lutherans

John Jacob Astor
1763-1848

"THE LANDLORD OF NEW YORK CITY" — courtesy of Chicago Historical Society.

Number 9 in an educational series featuring famous Lutherans

The founder of the Astor family fortune began his quest for financial fame in New York as a penniless but ambitious emigrant fur trader. Through thrift and energy he accumulated a substantial sum of money and set forth into the western wilderness to found the settlement of Astoria in Oregon at the mouth of the Columbia River. His settlement soon served as the central depot for the lucrative fur trade between the lakes and the Pacific. He sold his business at a considerable profit and embarked upon the most fabulous real estate enterprise America has ever known. Acre by acre, Astor bought up farm property on the outskirts of the then undeveloped city of New York. This land became the heart of Manhattan and he amassed a fortune of $30,000,000. "The Landlord of New York City" died in the metropolis where he gained his immortal fame.

The virtue of thrift has long been a Lutheran trait — and Lutherans know that the wisest, safest investment today is insurance.
